Describe the concept. If already in use here or elsewhere, please indicate this.

Engage in intentional dialogue around race, diversity and identity in the community of the Department of Family Medicine and Community Health. Creation of an ongoing, facilitated, brownbag lunch series to promote further discussions of these issues in our statewide department of more than 1,000 learners, faculty and staff.

*Wisconsin School of Business currently does a brownbag lunch around diversity within their community for all faculty, staff and students.

How would this affect cultural change on campus?

Encourage open dialogue, and engage the community members in these issues.

For new ideas, how would you propose piloting this idea to see if it would work? If the idea is already in use at UW-Madison, how would you propose expanding or altering this program for greater impact?

Gather insight from the Wisconsin School of Business and look at expanding this program to our department, and others, on campus.

What resources would be needed to implement your suggestion?

Events could be BYOL, or could be funded to help support the cost of meals.
